SWAP YOUR CAR THIS WEEKEND

Don't miss this special event at Chapelhouse

Trading in your tired old wheels for a more exciting model becomes easier and cheaper than ever.

Here at Chapelhouse, we love giving our customers great deals, so if you are looking to change your car, we are offering a simple, catch free way to do so, without leaving you out of pocket.

Our Car Swap event runs right across the Chapelhouse group, meaning you have a range of over 700 new, nearly new and quality used vehicles to choose from. Many of our cars also come with a host of added extras as standard, including our fantastic 'free MOT test for life' offer.

The process is simple, just take your car down to Chapelhouse, and enjoy a hot drink on us, while one of our friendly salesmen works out the best possible price we can give you for your car. Once we've worked this out, you can take a look around the site and pick the car you'd like to take home. Each car will be reduced and priced to sell, so simply deduct the price of your car from the price of your new car, and that's all you have to pay. That means there's every chance you will walk away with a new car for nothing!

To make a great deal even better, just £50 will secure any vehicle you like. No other dealer can boast an offer this good, so make sure you take a trip down to Chapelhouse during this Car Swap event and get yourself a new car from as little as £0!

CAR SWAP HOW IT WORKS...

1. We shall close early on 19th November in order to prepare for Chapelhouse the Car Swap nine day event.
2. We will fully prepare over 1000 new, nearly new and used vehicles and line them up for you to browse around.
3. The price of every car will be reduced and PRICED TO SELL!
4. The Car Swap price will be whitewashed on to every car windscreen.
5. You will be able to see the saving from the original price which will still be on the car.
6. When you arrive and after making your choice of tea, coffee or hot chocolate your car will be valued.
7. You will be given a written valuation on a signed form stating how much we will give you for your car.
8. Pick the car you most desire and either do a straight swap depending on the valuation of your car or pay the difference.
9. Once you have decided on a swap, simply take your valuation form to any one of the Chapelhouse Car Sales Executives who will complete the necessary documentation. You will also be able to take advantage of special finance packages during the event, including interest free credit.
10. Finally £50 will reserve any car in the Chapelhouse Car Swap

MOT FOR LIFE

There is no other car dealer in the United Kingdom that will allow you to swap your existing car for another one and give you a FREE MOT TEST for life!

MAN PUNCHED BY SHOPLIFTER DIED 13 DAYS LATER

Police step up hunt for violent thug after death

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A have-a-go hero who was punched in the face after confronting a suspected shoplifter has died.

The 54-year-old from St Helens suffered a serious facial injury after chasing a man in his early 20s down Parade Street in the town centre.

He was treated for his injuries but was found dead at his home days after being discharged from hospital.

Police do not believe his death is linked to the assault but his official cause of death has not yet been confirmed.

However, his death has prompted a renewed focus by detectives to bring the shoplifter whose actions sparked the clash to justice.

Police are refusing to name the dead man at the request of his family but say he had visited Seddon News at around 8.15pm on October 27 when the drama unfolded.

He is believed to have gone to the Vincent Street shop to buy his elderly mother a drink when he noticed that a member of staff was "agitated and upset".

Realising that an alleged theft had just taken place, he followed the suspect onto nearby Parade Street to confront him - only to be punched in the face.

Scores of smokers stub out their cigs

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

More than 1,000 smokers in St Helens stubbed out their cigarettes for Stoptober last month.

They joined more than 250,000 people nationwide who took on Public Health England's annual stop smoking challenge.

Locally, 794 people registered on the national Stoptober database and 280 registered a quit date, supported by St Helens Smokefree Support.

Julie Tipton, St Helens Smokefree Support Manager, said: "The campaign was a big success in St Helens."

"Smokefree Support handed out more than 900 Stoptober packs to smokers visiting their promotional events in the town centre."

Fifteen drivers at Saints Taxis were among those who registered to quit.

More than 1,000 St Helens smokers tried to quit last month

The firm's manager Paul Thompson said "We were approached by the Smokefree team to take part in the campaign and so far three drivers have managed to stay smoke-free. This is a fantastic result given that they were all heavy smokers."

Earlier this year St Helens' director of public health said good progress had been made in the first year since the responsibility for public health was switched back to St Helens Council from the NHS.

But she admitted there was still work to do with regards to health inequalities.

She said: "More causes of death now are as a result of lifestyle factors such as smoking, drinking, poor diet and lack of exercise."

Among a range of recommendations in her Better Health Together report was the introduction of community services to promote smoke-free homes.

Stardom beckons at open mic night for Britain's Got Talent

BY CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

Everyone knows St Helens has talent... now we can really prove it!

Music mogul Simon Cowell's hit TV show Britain's Got Talent is preparing to hold auditions at a St Helens pub.

On December 4, a special open mic night is set to be held at The Junction pub in Rainford to find the best talent around.

The show is open to any performer of any age, from any background, with any talent - all they need is a skill and star quality which they think will impress.

Almost anything goes in the auditions, from comedians to contortionists, dancers to drag acts and acrobats to animals.

Anyone who thinks they have the talent to follow in the footsteps of previous finalists should take a chance and come to one of the auditions which are taking place between October - December this year ahead of the judges audition tour in 2015.

Executive producer Ame-

lia Brown said: "Britain's Got Talent has an amazing record of celebrating amazing talent and changing people's lives - from Susan Boyle and Diversity through to Paul Potts, Ashleigh and Pudsey and this year's winners Collabro.

"They all took a chance and applied for the show and that's what we want the people to do this year. We can't wait to see the talent that St Helens has to offer."

The local auditions are set to run in tandem with the open audition tour which visits larger cities across the UK and Ireland.

Among the weird and wonderful acts set to bid for stardom is stand-up comedian Fanny La Tranny - the creation of local transgender woman Alison Stokes. Alison, 36, who was born Andrew Stokes, recently held a comedy open mic night in St Helens in aid of Willobrook Hospice.

This year's Britain's Got Talent winners, musical theatre boy-band Collabro, were crowned in front of an audience of 13 million viewers.

Other success stories from the series include musical duo Bars and Melody, whose single Hopeful reached number five in the chart in July, and swing band Jack Pack, who have recently signed a deal to release their debut album in 2015.

Anna's takes a racing line to beauty contest

BY ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

An aspiring model from St Helens hopes her family's drive will help propel her to success on the catwalk.

Anna Middlehurst, 17, comes from a long line of successful motor racing drivers, with her brother, dad, granddad and great-grandfather all making their mark in the sport.

The Crank teenager has won a place in the semi-finals of Miss England and needs voters to back her bid to reach the final.

It's been a meteoric rise for Anna, who only started modelling this summer.

"I have done a few pageants and enjoyed them," she said.

"I really only started thinking about doing modelling in the summer and sent off to a few different modelling agencies and they all got back in touch and said they were interested in taking me on."

Aspiring model Anna Middlehurst

"I really like doing the modelling. When the pageants comes around I really enjoy the whole day itself. It's all about smiling and being pretty, which is fun."

Anna, whose dad Andrew runs the Middlehurst motor group, entered the Miss England on a whim.

She added: "If I get through to the semi-final then there is a section where you have to demonstrate a talent. I've no idea what I am going to do; I can't sing or dance."

"At one of the earlier contests I was asked what I'd do if I had a million pounds. It seems like an easy question but when you're on the spot it can be tough."

You can vote for Anna by texting MISS ENGH18 to 63333 or vote from a landline, which is 0901 3078571 and press 18 when prompted.

Text votes cost 50p whilst Landline votes cost 52p plus standard network charge.

The voting line stays open until midnight on Sunday, November 30.

Bereaved family receive pay-out

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

The family of an elderly woman who died after suffering a fall at a council care home have received an undisclosed compensation pay-out.

Jillian Davies' mother, Aileen Mather, broke her hip in a fall at Seddon Court on Prescott Road, Eccleston, in June 2012.

The 84-year-old grandmother-of-five was then taken to hospital without any of her medication.

They also claimed no individual care plans were created for Mrs Mather. She underwent an operation but died several days later.

Her daughter subsequently pursued legal action against Seddon Court for breaching their duty of care.

However, a spokeswoman for St Helens Council said that no fault was found on the part of the care home in a subsequent investigation conducted

Aileen Mather, who died following a fall, with her husband John ed by council officials.

The care home, which the council announced this summer is set to close, recently settled the claim, paying an undisclosed fee without admitting liability.

Mrs Davies, 50, of Newton-le-Willows, said: "When I rang to inform the home of my mother's passing I was really disappointed with the manager. There was no apology.

"I want to tell others about my experience so other families can be aware of the neglect people can suffer in a care home. I'm relieved to finally receive justice."

A council spokeswoman said: "A full investigation of Mrs Mather's emergency admission to Seddon Court and subsequent admission to hospital was undertaken and no fault was found on the part of the care home.

"This incident played no part in the decision to close Seddon Court."

Man in the dock for 'beer assault'

A 34-year-old man appeared in court to be sentenced for assaulting a woman by tipping a pint of beer over her. David Dillon, of Ravenstone Drive, Sutton, admitted a charge of assault by beating. Court records state Dillon was sentenced to a six-month community order on the basis of the defence version of events which stated that he "simply poured beer over the complaint". ## Has St Helens ever witnessed a bigger or better Christmas lights switch on?

The estimated 8,000 revellers who packed into Victoria Square on Saturday would answer with an affirmative 'yes'!

Headlined by pop supergroup The Lightning Seeds, the council-organised extravaganza kicked off with performances from X-Factor starlets Paul Akister and Lola Saunders and Britain's Got Talent finalists Bars and Melody, topped off by a show-stopping turn from St Helens favourites, The Lancashire Hotpots.

There was also music from Sophia Ben-Yousef, Zoe Unsworth, The Ambition, Ellis C and Jack, Rime Suspex, Myth of Unity, Amica, Garswood Primary School, Broad Oak Primary School and Parish CE Primary School, whilst the cast of the Jack and the Beanstalk pantomime from the Theatre Royal, St Helens made a special appearance.

After the official business of the lights switch-on - presided over by mayor Geoff Pearl - was completed, the after show party got underway featuring The Lightning Seeds, Scouting for Girls and The Hummingbirds.

St Helens Lights Switch On

Council leader Barrie Grunewald said: "What a fantastic evening. I'd like to thank everyone who helped make this year's switch on the huge success that it was.

"All the performances were superb and that really gave off a fabulous vibe and energy to the thousands in attendance.

"Seeing the community come together and have a great time is really overwhelming and symbolises exactly what the festive period is about."

Teen caught carrying martial arts-style knife

A St Helens man has admitted carrying a martial arts-style knife in public.

Peter Ratcliffe was stopped by officers near St Helens Police Station and spoken to while on his way to a party on October 31.

The 19-year-old was found to be carrying a martial arts-style lock knife.

Ratcliffe, of Union Street, St Helens, made a full and frank admission to a possession allegation in a subsequent police interview.

He also admitted that he had no reasonable excuse for carrying the blade and pleaded guilty in his first appearance before St Helens Magistrates' Court yesterday.

Paul Potter, defending, told how his client had no previous convictions and deserved credit for his co-operation with the police and early guilty plea.

He admitted that the knife itself was "not a pretty sight" but claimed that Ratcliffe had simply forgotten it was in his pocket.

Mr Potter also told how the knife had not been brandished in any way and revealed that his client was a student who had hoped to join the army until suffering a spell of mental ill-health.

He added that the knife was the type which might be thrown at a target.

Magistrates, who were shown an image of the blade by the prosecution, asked for a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the probation service.

They adjourned the case until December 9.

Ratcliffe was granted unconditional bail until that date.

Man hit by shoplifter has died

He was taken to hospital for treatment, but was later discharged. He died at home just 13 days later.

His death has since been referred to the coroner, pending forensic reports, and is currently being treated as "unexplained".

It is not clear at this stage whether a formal inquest will be launched into the circumstances surrounding his death.

However, a police spokesman said detectives were "confident" that the assault was not linked to his subsequent death - despite a delay in the release of the results of a post mortem.

A 20-year-old St Helens man handed himself in at a police station last Thursday (November 13) after detectives released CCTV.

He was subsequently arrested on suspicion of assault and theft, questioned and released on police bail pending further inquiries.

Anyone with information about the assault or theft offences can contact police on 0151 777 6049 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Man headbutted wife in booze-fuelled rage

A St Helens man who rated his own drunkenness as "11 out of 10" admitted headbutting his wife after flying into a booze-fuelled rage.

Wayne Round admitted assaulting his wife, Paula, at their Sutton home shortly before midnight on October 24.

St Helens Magistrates' Court heard how the defendant, 51, had struggled to cope following the death of his brother.

Angela Blackmore, prosecuting, told how Mrs Round noticed that her husband was "a bit off" when she returned home from work at about 4pm that day.

To avoid a confrontation she went to bed for an hour while the defendant went out.

When he returned, carrying a pint bottle of vodka, he became verbally aggressive so she went out - again to avoid a confrontation.

But when she returned to their Carnegie Crescent home at about 11.30pm she found that the house had been "smashed up" and there was glass all over the floor.

Thinking Round had gone to bed Mrs Round settled down on the sofa to keep out of the way, only for the defendant to come in, grab her and headbutt her.

Mrs Round was forced to flee the house and call the police.

She told officers that her husband was in such a rage that he didn't even seem to realise he had assaulted her.

Mrs Round was left nursing a swollen lip and also suffered some bleeding - but told police that, despite being assaulted, she was mainly concerned for her husband's welfare.

In interview, Round said he could not recall what had happened because he had started drinking vodka at 2pm that day.

He said he didn't remember smashing up the house or headbutting his wife, but rated himself as "11 out of 10" for drunkenness.

Frank Roe, defending, told how his client had pleaded guilty at the first opportunity on the full prosecution version of events - despite having no recollection of the incident.

He suggested that the case was suitable for community disposal.

Magistrates agreed but asked for the probation service to prepare a pre-sentence report.

Round is due to be sentenced on November 26 and was granted conditional bail.

Pioneering factory and runaway romance

Here's what was hitting the headlines in the St Helens Reporter 50 years ago this week.

The largest and most modern glass container factory in Britain was to be built in St Helens by UGB at a cost of £4m.

The factory was to be constructed at Sherdley, with the first furnace due to start production in the autumn of 1966.

A United Glass spokesman told the Reporter: "The increasingly exacting standards required can only be met economically in plants using the most modern equipment and making the best possible use of manpower."

In other news, vandals forced Lancashire County Institute of Agriculture to move from Victoria Park.

Hooligans damaged flowerers and stole plants from the site - used by the institute to train youths and students to become fully certified park attendants.

The authorities were asked to provide an alternative training ground in Sherdley Park.

Elsewhere, British Railways had to delay the reconstruction of the Corporation Street road bridge until 1965.

Originally, the work had been included in the current year's list of contracts. Work was due to start in April.

And finally, a runaway romance ended with two teenage sweethearts saying "I do" at St Helens Register Office.

Keith Worley, 19, and Pamela Traverse, 17, first fled to Gretna Green intending on marrying.

But, after reading an appeal from Pamela's parents urging them to return home and have a family wedding, they "hitched" back to St Helens.

On returning home, they declared: "Gretna Green is terrible. There is nothing romantic about it at all!"

Alcohol Awareness

Real Lives

We've been there.

Alcohol problems don't just affect the person doing the drinking - they can impact friends and family too.

Now, in support of Alcohol Awareness Week (17th - 23rd November) several local people have volunteered to tell their stories, in the hope it will help others.

*Names and certain details have been changed to protect the identity of the people involved.

Sarah's recovery.

Sarah* is a mum of two who started drinking as a teenager. "I had a good upbringing - holidays every year, and I even had a horse," she says. "However, my dad drank heavily and my parents divorced when I was 15.

I first started drinking on the streets with my mates when I was 14. I grew up, had jobs and went to university to study nursing. But pretty soon my drinking, which I was doing purely to get drunk, was starting to affect my studies and I often phoned in sick.

In my second year at uni, I fell pregnant, so I left, and not long after I had my second child. It was when the children and their dad and I moved in together that drinking wine at weekends soon became a bottle or two every night.

Our relationship ended but my drinking didn't. When the children were in bed, I would drink, and the more I drank the more depressed I became. Then I took an overdose.

I was in hospital for three days, but it didn't end there. I met someone new, but once again we were drinking every night, and once the children started school I started drinking in the day. My partner had no idea at first, but as my behaviour changed he left too, soon followed by my children. They went to live with their dad after I had an alcoholic fit in front of them.

But I couldn't stop. I was drinking vodka for breakfast, cider for dinner and wine for tea. I hardly ate and my liver started to fail. The doctors told me I had to stop, but I didn't.

The next 18 months I was in and out of hospital. I was jaundiced, bleeding, hallucinating and dying, and in autumn 2012 I was referred to Addaction.

The staff were amazing. I finally admitted I had a drink problem and, with their support, went to Alcoholics Anonymous (AA).

I'm now sober, married, working full time and the children have their mummy back. My doctor said he couldn't believe I was the same girl who he'd told was going to die."

Steve's happy without a drink.

Steve* is a local man who describes the joys and benefits of enjoying life without drinking...

"I can't remember ever making a conscious decision to stop drinking alcohol," he said. "I wouldn't describe myself as abstinent because I'll have a pint or two at a wedding or a Christmas party, but the truth is that I rarely drink alcohol, even when I go out or when we all get together for a family gathering.

I've accepted that in the eyes of friends and family I am now cast firmly in the role of permanent late night taxi driver, but that's ok. What is more annoying than that is the social pressure and judgements that I get because I choose not to drink. Even people who have known me for years assume that I can't 'really' be enjoying myself because I haven't had an alcoholic drink. In fact, I do know how to party and have many a tale which won't be for the grandchildren's ears in the future, but everything changed when I got to my early 30s. It was no longer fun not to remember the night before, or putting myself in risky situations. I had a family and wanted to be fully present for them and for myself.

I believe that having a choice about how and why you use drink is liberating. I have loads of confidence, I take care of my weight and my health and I don't need a drink just to be me.

Some of my friends need to have a drink before they go out, just to get the confidence to go out and socialise in the first place.

I do get the clichés - people thinking I may have had a drinking problem in the past or that I'm on medication.

The truth is I don't need to have an excuse for not drinking - I simply choose to see and enjoy life in all its glorious colours, without the help of alcohol.

I don't judge my friends who drink, so I don't think anyone should judge me for not drinking. "I am now the dad and role model to two teenagers. Drinking alcohol is a hot topic in our house, as they are at an age where they are experimenting with boundaries.

If I have taught them anything I hope it is the ability to have confidence and respect for themselves. You have a choice and you don't need to drink alcohol to have a good time."

Sue's Struggle with son's drinking.

Sue* is a middle aged mum to her son Jake*, who has been drinking in excess for quite a few years now. She tells us about the rift it has created in her family, as opinions divide about how to deal with the issue...

Sue says: "At first, as a mum, you question yourself. Was it something that I did wrong, did I contribute to his problem, can love on its own be enough to help him through if he won't seek help?

In many ways, I felt like a failure. I had failed to see the full extent of the problem until it was too late, and I wasn't coping well with all the family arguments that were caused because of his drinking.

It isn't something that you really want to share with everyone. My husband could see the hurt that it was causing, and he felt powerless too.

His way of coping was to completely disown Jake until he got his act together, but for me it wasn't as simple as that. I felt completely alone and at my wits' end.

There were many ups and downs. Jake was in and out of treatment and also went through a detoxification. Sometimes even when we thought he was making real progress, the slightest thing could set his drinking off again. Sometimes I did not know if what I was doing was for the best.

I was constantly questioning myself. Should I show tough love and step back like my husband did, or maintain a constant vigil in case he did something stupid? Was I helping or making the situation worse? In the end my own health started to suffer. Seeking help for myself at Footsteps was the first step to regaining control. Footsteps helped me to understand about addiction and about how alcohol misuse affects a person mentally and physically. I learnt that I wasn't alone, and that there are others in a similar position to me. There are no easy answers, but the decisions that I make now are based on choices and having the right information.

I am worrying less and feeling less guilty. My sleep has improved and my relationships with my son and husband have improved.

We aren't completely out of the woods yet, but whatever happens I am better equipped to cope.

People forget that when someone is stopping, or cutting down, their drinking, the impact of that is often felt by other close friends and family. It's just as important that we know what to expect, how to cope and how to look after our own health."

Week 17th - 23rd November

Yvonne's ordeal with her daughter's drinking at a house party.

Yvonne*, tells us about what happened when her teenage daughter drank alcohol at a house party. She says: " We really care about our daughters Michelle*, 16, and Evie*, 12, who are both beautiful and clever girls. We try to be good parents and work hard to make our home safe and happy. Evie looks up to her big sister and copies everything she does. Last year Michelle worked really hard to pass her GCSEs and we were all thrilled with the results. We were really pleased that she was making something of her life. Of course her friends all wanted to celebrate, and Michelle told us that her friend (who we know well) was having a house party and that there would be alcohol at the party. I can't say that I was pleased, especially when she asked us to buy her some alcohol to take with her to the party, but I was told there would be parental supervision and that all of her friends were going. I thought that it would be safer than drinking on the streets and I didn't want her to be the odd one out. At least she was being open with us. In the end I bought her three alcopops and gave her lots of warnings and advice. What I hadn't banked on was that there would be others bringing lots of alcohol to the party and 'smuggling drinks' in. Despite thinking she was all grown up, Michelle was mixing her drinks and getting completely drunk to the point that someone called an ambulance and she ended up in A&E. She was alright, thank goodness, but it was such an upsetting and embarrassing experience. When I think of what might have happened, given the state she was in, it makes my blood run cold. My advice to any parent in the same situation would be to be assertive and don't get caught up in the 'peer pressure trap' yourself. You can't be with them all the time but you can set an example yourself, answer their questions about alcohol honestly and make sure they know that they have choices and have thought through how to handle any situations that are likely to arise, in advance. Make sure they are aware of the dangers to their health and give them advice about how to stay safe. I would never have forgiven myself if there had been lasting damage."

Jed's difficult time with mum's drinking.

19-year-old Jed* from St.Helens, tells us about his difficult experience growing up in a house where drink was causing problems. He says: "Looking back, it's hard for me to think of a time when my mum wasn't drinking. It was just the two of us when I was younger as she had split with my dad when I was a toddler and I barely remember him. She found it hard to cope. When I was at school, I'd worry about the weekend - that's when she drank the most. I remember Friday nights would consist of my mum drinking, popping in and out of the house throughout the night and then me being woken up in the early hours of the morning from the music blasting from the television downstairs. She would always feel guilty the morning after, but on the Saturday when it came to 5pm, I would notice a can of cheap cider in a shopping bag and knew that tonight would be another night of drinking, loud music and her trying to cause arguments. This became a regular pattern. I remember when I was 14 asking friends, 'Can I stay over at yours?' I would ask in a way that they thought I just wanted to come over to see them and have a laugh, but really it was always to get out of the house and avoid her. The relief would always turn to worry that she would hurt herself, or do damage to the house. When I started college, I was even more aware of her increased drinking. I hated it so much that I would put salt in her bottle of vodka, thinking that it might change the way it tastes and stop her drinking. That never worked either.

Am I drinking too much?

The Chief Medical Officer recommends that men should not regularly drink more than 3-4 units of alcohol per day and women should not regularly drink more than 2-3 units of alcohol per day (1 unit = 8g or 10ml of alcohol). Drinking above these limits increases the risk of health harms. Further information is available from www.nhs.uk/units

Pregnant women or women trying to conceive should avoid drinking alcohol altogether.

- a pint of lower-strength lager, beer or cider (ABV 3.6%) is 2 units
- a single shot(25ml) of spirits (ABV 40%) is 1 unit
- a standard glass (175ml) of red, white or rose wine (ABV 12%) is 2 units

When I turned 16, she was prescribed antidepressants and started drinking on top of those. That seemed to make things even worse, and there was an awful scene in the doctors' surgery when Mum had been drinking and started shouting at the reception staff. The next day, after another argument, I finally told her that enough was enough. She needed help and we had reached a crisis point. My friends would not come near the house, my girlfriend and her family didn't like being around her, she lost her job and I was trying my best to be out of the house as much as I could. This time she listened and realised the damage she was causing. She agreed to go to Addaction, and really threw herself into taking up the help that was on offer, doing things like counselling, groups, courses and qualifications. As a child, I felt a mixture of emotions because of Mum's drinking: fear, shame, embarrassment, loneliness and frustration. At the same time I always cared about Mum and I wish she would have asked for help sooner. When she wasn't drinking, things were great. It was obvious she was using the drink to help her cope and she did try to hide it from me, but kids know. The thing is that there is help out there now, so no one needs to go through these things alone. She is now like a different woman - she enjoys cooking, is doing voluntary work and says that the thought of drinking does not appeal to her. She is aiming to get a job and is much more confident and easier to talk to. Although I personally had quite a few hard years, I am very happy with the relationship we have now. I don't think twice about asking my girlfriend and her family to come round now."

Top talks in bid to give power to the region

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

Top local politicians are set to meet this week to discuss plans for the Liverpool City Region to bid for greater devolved powers.

Last week St Helens Council leader Barrie Grunewald welcomed the possibility of greater powers but told of his opposition to a directly elected regional Mayor.

He said: "First and foremost, I am a democrat so we must trust the people and let them have a say."

Council leader
Barrie Grunewald

"At a time when politics is broken, the idea we can impose a new structure on people without their views being taken into account is ridiculous. Any move to impose a Metro Mayor would have to be accompanied by a referendum."

"We are opposed to a Metro Mayor and in favour of giving more powers to the current combined authority, which we believe can be done via the current model."

On Friday (November 21) the Liverpool City Region Combined Authority is set to meet.

Proposals for greater devolved powers and funding to the Liverpool City Region will be among the items discussed.

Mayor of Liverpool Joe Anderson has already called for Merseyside to be given similar powers to those handed to Greater Manchester in the recent devolution agreement.

As part of the deal, the area will have its first directly-elected mayor as part of the deal without any sort of public consultation.

Chancellor George Osborne has said: "I'm up for Merseyside going down this path, so let's start the conversation."

Two taken to hospital after East Lancs crash

Two people were hospitalised following a serious two-vehicle crash at Haydock Island.

Emergency crews were called to the busy East Lancs Road junction at about 11am on Monday (November 17).

Firefighters had to use hydraulic cutting equipment to remove the roof of one of the vehicles and rescue a man and a woman.

Both casualties were taken to Whiston Hospital by ambulance for further treatment.

The extent of the injuries they had suffered was not known.

Two fire appliances - from Newton-le-Willows and Eccleston community fire stations - were called to the scene.

They were joined by Merseyside Fire and Rescue Service's dedicated search and rescue team.

Firefighters remained at the scene for just under an hour.

'Desperate' thief stole from stores

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

A man who committed four shoplifting offences in less than a fortnight was "in desperate straits" after suffering a benefits delay, a court heard.

Alan Chadwick admitted stealing items from Boots, JD Sports and The Range after his benefits were delayed after leaving his mother's home.

St Helens Magistrates' Court heard how the 25-year-old targeted JD Sports on both October 25 and November 2 – stealing nearly £250 worth of t-shirts.

Angela Blackmore, prosecuting, told how Chadwick also targeted The Range on November 2 – stealing four bottles of water purifier sold to people who own tropical fish – and Boots four days later.

In the first offence, staff at JD Sports on Church Street noticed that stock was missing and reviewed in-store CCTV.

The footage showed Chadwick and another male selecting £96 worth of t-shirts before placing them in a bag and leaving without making any attempt to pay.

The duo then targeted the same store in a carbon-copy raid on November 2 – this time making off with £150 worth of t-shirts.

In the offence at The Range, the same duo were spotted selecting items from the shelf before placing them in a bag for life.

However, when they attempted to steal a Braun electric razor worth £139.99 from Boots they were challenged by a member of staff.

Although Chadwick, of Cambridge Road, St Helens, got away, his accomplice was held at the scene.

After Chadwick was arrested at his home address he told police that he had no money and needed to buy clothes.

He claimed he had left many of the items in the stores after getting cold feet.

Ian Morris, defending, told how his client had had to leave his mother's home at short notice but had suffered a delay in his benefits after moving to St Helens with his girlfriend.

He described his client as having been "in desperate straits" but told how Chadwick was now receiving benefits.

He added that his client claimed he had dumped the items stolen in The Range elsewhere in the store before leaving.

Magistrates handed Chadwick a 12-month conditional discharge and ordered him to pay £123 compensation to JD Sports and £27.98 to The Range as well as £85 towards prosecution costs.

They warned him that if he stepped out of line again there would be "serious implications".

Pupils spot Pudsey as he drops in for charity day

■ Youngsters at a Newton school received a surprise visit from Pudsey Bear. The Children In Need mascot dropped into Wargrave Primary on Thursday, 24 hours before the charity's big day.

■ Children and staff dressed in something spotty or as superheroes for the day. The children brought donations to school on Friday and also took part in activities organised by the children in Year 6. These included throwing a wet sponge at a teacher, a penalty shoot-out and other games and crafts, which raised more than £300.

■ Headteacher Sue Wade said: "The children were so excited to meet Pudsey. Children in Need is a great cause and I'm very proud that we've contributed so much."

How homeowners can freeze their energy bills this winter

As we brace ourselves for another winter of chilling energy price rises, a local company is committed to helping us cut the cost and stay warm.

St Helens based energy efficiency experts, ECOzy, specialise in ways to make homes warmer and energy bills cheaper. Part of housing association, Helena Homes, the ECOzy team has already saved communities throughout Merseyside thousands of pounds by installing new boilers, double glazing, wall insulation and solar technology. Now their expertise is being offered directly to homeowners like you.

ECOzy manager, David Chadwick, explains: "On behalf of Helena Homes we've been adding energy efficiency measures to homes across St Helens for many years and we've seen first-hand the difference it can make to lives and energy bills.

This year looks set to see further increases to the cost of gas and electricity. By installing insulation and energy efficient appliances, we can help homeowners save energy, save money and reduce bills."

The money you save on your energy bills could pay for the work you have done

Government grants and funding from utilities companies is widely available to make energy efficiency more affordable, sometimes covering the cost entirely.

David comments: "Funding from the Green Deal is a big help and we can advise people on what's available and how to apply for it.

It's worth remembering too that our prices are extremely competitive, especially compared to the big names in boilers and windows and doors. Plus, any investment you do make will pay for itself in lower bills. Average savings from a new boiler are around £250 a year."

Come home to cosy

Whether it's loft insulation, external wall insulation, solar PV or an energy efficient new boiler, ECOzy's experienced technicians will recommend an energy saving solution tailored to suit your needs and your home.

"We were told it would keep our house warm but we're surprised at the difference it has made."

ECOzy recently installed external wall insulation on 70 homes in Sutton Manor, St Helens. Acting like a tea cosy, it helps to keep homes warm and reduce energy bills.

Mr and Mrs Fitch have already noticed the difference: "We are over the moon with the external wall insulation. In the morning we used to have the heating on from 6am until 9.30am. Now we only have it on for an hour and our home retains the heat. We were told it would keep our house warm but we're surprised at the difference it has made."

Hot tips for keeping your heating healthy

Julia Gray offers five tricks to help cut your bills this winter

1 SERVICE OR REPLACE YOUR BOILER

For your home's boiler to work most efficiently, it needs to be serviced annually by a Gas Safe Register (www.gassaferegister.co.uk) engineer. If you can afford to, replacing an old boiler with a new one will improve your central heating system and save you money. A boiler that's 15 years old or more is only around 60-70% efficient, so around 30p-40p of every pound spent on heating and hot water is wasted. "Updating to an A-rated condensing boiler, such as a Worcester Greenstar, could make your heating system up to 90% efficient," says Martyn Bridges of boiler manufacturer Worcester, Bosch Group.

2 INSULATE OR REPLACE THE HOT-WATER CYLINDER

New cylinders for boilers, such as Worcester's Greenstore range, come with a thick layer of built-in insulation, but lots of us have older cylinders that benefit from being fitted with an insulation jacket (at least 75mm thick). According to the Energy Saving Trust, fitting a jacket to an uninsulated cylinder will save you around £85-£130 a year (based on a typical gas-heated home in England, Scotland and Wales). Cylinder jackets are inexpensive and easy to fit - try Mangers Cylinder Jacket (£14.58, B&Q), which is 180mm thick.

3 INSULATE PIPES

By insulating heating/hot water pipes, you prevent unnecessary heat loss and help to stop them freezing in winter. The easiest way to insulate pipes is to use pre-scored foam tubes, which snap over and around the pipes and come in different diameters for a snug fit.

4 UPGRADE THE RADIATORS AND VALVES

To ensure your radiators are working at full capacity, bleed them with a radiator key or small screwdriver (when the heating is off and the radiators are cold), depending on the type of bleed valve. Many older radiators don't have adjustable valves - they're either on or off, so fitting new valves will enable you to turn the heating down when you need to. "I would always recommend fitting thermostatic radiator valves, as they offer individual room comfort and save energy by not allowing rooms to overheat," says Bridges. "They regulate or cut off the flow of hot water to individual radiators, while the programmer and room thermostat control the heat to the whole house. A survey indicated that a central heating system with a full set of controls and thermostatic radiator valves could save up to 40% compared to an uncontrolled system."

5 STAY IN CONTROL

Smart systems, which enable you to control your heating and hot water from your smartphone or tablet via an app, are all the rage. One of the newest is therM, pictured above, which is compatible with any heating system with a thermostat - if you can do basic wiring, you can fit therM yourself (an internet router is also required). Smart systems like this enable you to control your heating and hot water precisely and remotely, so instead of leaving the heating on when you go out on a cold day, you can turn it on using your smartphone when you're on your way home.

Innovative Marketing at an Affordable Price

As estate agents it is our job to promote your property as best we can, this means we have to innovate, we have to push the boundaries of what is the norm when selling. We do it all, whatever it takes, we will do it.

Oakdene Court, Rainhill £399,995

This property ticks all the boxes. This home has four bedrooms and a garden you can play football in (okay, admittedly 5 a side). It is also situated in the catchment area of some of the best schools in Merseyside. That same garden is the perfect venue for barbeques and Pimmis! Maybe it is time to relax and enjoy the finer things in life, a lovely kitchen, a separate dining room comfortably seating eight in which to entertain, or a chance to travel to Liverpool or Manchester by train or car. A classic house any family can call a home. D66

COMMENT

Council leader

Barrie Grunewald

Education is a top priority

We've taken a big step towards our goal of driving up educational standards in our schools.

Last week we announced the appointment of Phil Fitzpatrick as our local Schools Commissioner – becoming one of the first authorities in the country to create such a role.

Phil's role will be, quite simply, to regularly and robustly hold schools to account for their performance.

And I believe we couldn't have got a better man for the job. He has a great track record in the secondary sector for delivering rapid improvements,

He's turned around several schools, including Birkdale High in Sefton which went from special measures in 2011 to a 'good' Ofsted rating just two years later.

I'm delighted that Phil's joining us and look forward to working with him as we help our children and young people fulfil their potential.

This week (17 to 21 November) is Anti-Bullying week and I'm calling on all schools, children, young people, parents and carers to work together to stop bullying for all.

Bullying behaviour is something that affects children and young people emotionally and physically – and which can have a lasting impact into adulthood.

However, I believe that bullying is a behaviour that can be stopped – and changed – so that all children and young people feel safe in St Helens.

Schools and other settings have been busy planning a range of awareness raising and prevention activities this week – such as assemblies, poster competitions, peer listening and friendship lessons.

And I'm confident that these key messages and knowing where to go for help will stay with children, young people and their families throughout the year.

If any families are concerned about bullying, please speak with the head teacher at your child's school or visit <http://sthelens.gov.uk/anti-bullying> for information and help.

If you were in the town centre on Saturday night I hope you had a great night! I know I did.

The Christmas lights switch on in Victoria Square was a real family friendly occasion – heralding the arrival of the festive season in fine style.

Thousands of residents turned out for what must be one of the biggest and best free shows in the area.

X Factor stars Paul Akister and Lola Saunders were late additions to the bill – but certainly didn't disappoint. Along with Bars and Melody, the Lancashire Hotpots, the Lightning Seeds, Scouting for Girls, the Hummingbirds and a host of local stars, it made for a memorable night.

Now all that remains is that Christmas shopping.

St. Helens based Independent Financial Adviser, Allie Baglow, has been voted as one of the top 200 Rated Independent Financial Advisers once again and within the top 10 female advisers within the UK.

This was voted by clients nationally and is a bonus tis year as they have just this month moved into their spanking mew premises at The Old School House Cross Pit Lane, Rainford.

Allie has been an IFA for 18 years and founded Allisons Financial Planning back in 2004. Her achievement was announced in the Saturday Times.

Comments Allie: "There are over 20,000 Independent Financial Advisers in the UK so I'm thrilled to be in the Vouched For.co.uk Top 200 for a second year. What makes it even more special is that I've been selected thanks to my clients. It means a lot that they have gone out of their way to support me and I'd like to thank them all."

Continues Allie: "I'm passionate about Independent Financial Advice. While talking about how to look after your money isn't always straight forward with a growing pension and savings gap, planning your financial future is more important than ever.

In a nutshell that's what financial advice is all about – making sure you make the most out of your hard earned money and are not left short of funds in retirement or on a rainy day. It is the strategy that it is put in place which is the most important aspect of financial planning."

Allie was selected as a result of clients reviewing and rating her services on consumer ratings website VouchedFor.co.uk. The site, which enables people looking for financial advice to find a recommended IFA, works like TripAdvisor.

You can search for an adviser free of charge based on location and services provided. Advisers are then listed based on client reviews giving those seeking advice confidence that the adviser can be trusted.

Such is the success of Allisons Financial Planning Limited that they have had to move to new premises on Cross Pit Lane.

And to help with their growing success, Allie has recruited a senior adviser in Mark Ryan who has over 30 years experience working in financial services.

Allie said "Its good to have someone working with us with a vast experience of giving independent financial advice and Mark will be a great asset to the firm"

@StHelensReport

Rainford hosts a thriving

Rainford Christmas Fayre takes place on Saturday December 6 - 11am through to 3pm. In the village on the day there will be a family safe traffic area to make way for the Christmas street party.

The music will be provided by local primary schools choirs, Rainford Band along with church choirs and bell ringers. Santa will be there and in his grotto too. Local shops will take part in the day as well as market stalls.

They will have children's funfair rides, donkey rides, a raffle, a tombola, a balloon race as well as some lovely festive eats and drinks including the 'Big Paella'. Don't miss it.

This month's featured business is the Bottle & Glass Inn, on St Helen's Road, which has reopened its doors to the public following a week-long refurbishment.

The Bottle & Glass acts as a gateway to the historic village, which boasts picturesque 700-year old buildings, including the village's oldest building Mossborough Hall, built in 1300.

The Bottle & Glass general manager Kenny Chalmers said: "This latest renovation has completely transformed our pub, and we've been overwhelmed by positive feedback.

"We're proud to play a pivotal role in our local community, and are pleased that the refurbishment allows us to continue the Bottle and Glass' fine tradition of being a destination Rainford can be proud of."

"We've refreshed and expanded the dining area to make our dining experience even more enjoyable. It's a great place to sit back, relax and enjoy fantastic pub food."

Wendy's Florists will celebrate 30 years in business in 2014.

The owner Wendy Downey has been a professional florist for over 40 years. She said "We take pride in our customer service, and only deliver the best quality flowers. We promise to take care of your order. We can also arrange to send flowers both nationally and internationally through Interflora."

RAINFORD HIGH SCHOOL

Rainford High raised over £1,100 for this year's BBC Children in Need appeal to change the lives of disadvantaged children and young people in the UK.

The annual appeal saw the whole school having fun and joining in with various fundraising activities such as the popular 'Come to school as your favourite Super Hero' non-uniform day and a "flash mob" performance by some of the Grease cast who sang Summer Nights for a bit of fun in the amphitheatre outside in the courtyard.

Sixth Form Open Evening Success: Thanks to everyone who attended and participated in our successful Sixth Form Open Evening. We hope you enjoyed meeting our students and staff and gained an insight into life and learning at Rainford High Sixth Form. # Rainford's Bottle & Glass is inviting you to enjoy its new look Beloved Rainford venue the Bottle & Glass Inn, on St Helen's Road, has re-opened its doors to the public following a week-long refurbishment.

Located on the lush green outskirts of Rainford, less than ten minutes' drive from St Helen's, the Bottle & Glass is just a matter of miles from Billinge Hill, the highest point in Merseyside, as well as the village's Grade II-listed All Saints church.

The Bottle & Glass acts as a gateway to the historic village, which boasts picturesque 700-year old buildings, including the village's oldest building Mossborough Hall, built in 1300. A scenic two-mile walk away from the pub, the building's ancient moat remains intact.

The pub restaurant, which is over 190 years old, has undergone a major revamp. New flooring has been installed, with traditional, comfortable furnishings and fresh new wall art added to the venue's décor.

The end result is a warm country pub full of charm and character, a classic British pub that pays homage to its history while serving an array of timeless pub classics and a vast array of drinks.

Bottle & Glass general manager Kenny Chalmers said: "This latest renovation has completely transformed our pub, and we've been overwhelmed by positive feedback."

"We're proud to play a pivotal role in our local community, and are pleased that the refurbishment allows us to continue the Bottle and Glass' fine tradition of being a destination Rainford can be proud of."

"We've refreshed and expanded the dining area to make our dining experience even more enjoyable. It's a great place to sit back, relax and enjoy fantastic pub food."

"We're looking forward to sharing our fresh new look with returning and new guests alike over the coming weeks and months and providing them with a meal to remember in an enviable setting."

The Bottle & Glass' menu is full of pub favourites, such as a tempting Chicken, Pancetta & White Wine Pie (£9.29), a Creamy Fish Pie (£9.99) and a sumptuous Slow-cooked Pork Belly (£11.99).

The pub is also renowned for serving scrumptious Sunday lunches, including its succulent Roast Topside of Beef (£9.59), Roast Turkey Breast (£8.59) and Roast British Pork Leg (£7.99). The Bottle & Glass also offers its famous Trio of Roasts, a combination of the three aforementioned dishes served with all the trimmings.

Additionally, the Bottle & Glass serves a lunch menu between 12 and 4pm on Monday to Saturday, including favourites such as Hand-battered Fish & Chips and Lemon & Chilli Pappardelle from just £4.99, as well as a range of mouthwatering sandwiches for those looking for a lighter meal.

Open Monday to Saturday, 11.30am to 11pm, and Sunday from midday to 10pm; a warm and welcoming atmosphere awaits you at the new-look Bottle & Glass.

ROAD TEST: SEAT LEON CUPRA 280 DSG

Cupra is effortless to drive

By MATT KIMBERLEY
newsroom@lancspublications.co.uk
@StHelensRep

It was only fair to choose a Cupra 280 with a DSG gearbox.

I've driven plenty of twin-clutch automatics, but only for a day, two days or maybe a week at a time. Living with one is the acid test.

It's four months into my six-month stint with it, now.

I started off needing to be convinced by the technology, but was beginning to think of myself as a bit of a convert.

Around town it's effortless to drive, the shifts are smooth and fast, and with DSG under the floor the fast Leon is an amazingly versatile and satisfying everyday car. I was happy.

But then, like it does 10 minutes into a Hollywood action blockbuster, everything went pear-shaped.

A big red warning message on the info screen between the speedometer and rev counter told me to cease and desist immediately, lest the gearbox explode or the world end.

It wasn't quite so eloquent, but it had to go back from whence it came for workshop fettling.

Seat kindly furnished me with an identical replacement... except for the gearbox. And here's where the unexpected bit starts.

With DSG the Cupra is a monster above 3,000rpm. It absolutely devours overtakes and makes all sorts of supposedly brisk cars look like they're driving through deep treacle.

But the manual car is something else. It's rabid. Bonkers. Unhinged. Where the auto's power delivery seems strangled at lower revs, the manual explodes forward if you so much as cough on the accelerator.

Goalkeeper Rachel shares her skills

BY CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@ipress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

England goalkeeper Rachel Brown-Finnis paid a visit to a St Helens school to pass on a few football tips – and much more.

The Everton Ladies star, 34, visited De La Salle to work with pupils who are taking part in the Sky

England goalkeeper Rachel Brown

Sports Living For Sport programme.

Rachel, who has 87 England caps, even stayed after school to join in with the school's weekly girls sports club – along with the Liverpool Ladies FC development coach.

She outlined her six keys to success as: mental toughness, hunger to achieve, people skills, sports and life knowledge, breaking barriers and planning.

De La Salle PE teacher Michelle Hart hailed the day as “excellent” for both pupils and staff alike.

She said: “Rachel talked about her journey to becoming a professional athlete, lessons she has learned along the way, overcoming obstacles and her successes and failures.”

“She shared numerous personal experiences, including that of becoming an Olympian – one of her proudest moments in her career.”

She added: “It’s amazing to be part of a buzzing community of girls that are totally committed and enthusiastic about sport.”

Pupils at De La Salle High School play a variety of sports with high-profile female sport stars as part of a project looking at role models.

Runcorn Linnets 1
St Helens Town 0

St Helens Town ran league leaders Runcorn Linnets close for the second time this season and if they had taken their chances in the second half could have been the first side to defeat them in the league this season.

The first half was even with both sides creating chances Michael White drew a fine save from Rory Crowther in the Town goal and Lewis Coyle had an effort from a corner which went just over the bar.

The second half saw the visitors in the ascendancy against the 10 man hosts who had seen Kevin Towey sent off just before the interval for a petulant kick out at a Town defender.

Kris Bell was the first Town player to threaten after the interval as he had an effort from just inside the box which was saved by Richard Mottram in the home goal.

Just after the hour mark Bell was again in the action as he was released by a well weighted through ball and had an effort which was again held by the home stopper. Skipper Andy Gillespie was the next player to call Mottram into action as he got on to the end of a cross from Bell on the right wing after 70 minutes but he could only steer the ball just wide of the left hand upright. The chances continued as Gillespie was again the man on the spot as he collected a loose ball on the edge of the area and unloaded an effort which Mottram was just able to hold.

As time wore on it seemed that one goal would be enough to take the spoils and as it was the winner came against the run of play on 81 minutes. A counter attack from the Linnets culminated with the ball being cut back from the byline Kyle Hamid to score.

St Helens Town's Andy Gillespie sets up another attack as the visitors ran league leaders Runcorn close at the weekend

Loughlin and Nickle recall Bulls move saga

Two Saints players, who were involved in the one of the most talked about transfers in the history of the sport, will relive the moment and other parts of their rugby league life when they feature in Radio Merseyside's Try Time programme from 6pm to 7pm tomorrow.

Along with Sonny Nickle, Paul Loughlin and Bernard Dwyer moved to Bradford Bulls in November 1995 - a deal which resulted in Paul Newlove heading in the opposite direction and Saints also paying the Odsal outfit what was at the time a record-breaking £250,000 fee.

Had they had a real say, neither Loughlin or Dwyer - both St Helens born and bred and eagerly awaiting the first-ever Super League season - would have headed over the Pennines.

■ St Helens-born Kevin Brown has been appointed skipper of Widnes Vikings for 2015.

The 30-year-old stand off, who cut his teeth as a young player with Thatto Heath Crusaders, Haydock Warriors, Pilkington Recs and Blackbrook, takes over the role of captain following the retirement of Jon Clarke at the end of last season.

"Nothing will really change in terms of my own on-field performance," said Brown, whose had spells at Wigan Warriors and Huddersfield before joining the Vikings.

He added: "I will talk to the lads but actions speak louder than words."

Bowdon 10

Liverpool St Helens achieved the perfect ten last Saturday with a resounding win against Bowdon to maintain their challenge in South Lancashire/Cheshire One.

On a day when almost everything went right for the Moss Laners they ran in 10 tries, four in the first half and six in the second as well as producing strong and resilient defence when it really mattered most.

An all-round impressive team performance saw stand-off Greg Smith and Winger Jake Hodson both record a hat-trick of tries with the other scores coming from Ian Stanley, Matt Cunliffe, Joe Bate and Phil Kearns.

Wins for the second XV (20-3 at Bowdon) and third XV (29-15 v Waterloo) made it a clean sweep for the Moss Lane Club.

This Saturday Liverpool St Helens travel to Anselmians.

'James deserves to be on that list for a Golden Boot award'

BY CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@jpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

Paul Wellens reckons James Graham should be in the running for the Golden Boot award as the world's best player.

Saints skipper Wellens played alongside the England ace before Graham headed to the Australasian NRL and coached him during the recent Four Nations tournament.

And after the prop forward's barn-storming showing for England, Wellens believes Graham will be among the six-player shortlist announced on Friday.

"I played with James a lot and when he went to the NRL a lot of people asked me how he would do," said Wellens.

"He did exactly what I expected him to do, which is play superbly and dominate other teams' forwards.

"I'm not surprised by the high regard in which he is held. He is a phenomenal player.

"And he is a champion fellow. I have never met a more competitive individual. He produces the same level of performance every week, and in that he's a bit like James Roby.

"Both of them play to such a high standard that some people can take them for granted."

Wellens says he had hoped Graham's current club, Canterbury Bulldogs, would win the NRL Grand Final - thus bringing Graham back to St Helens for his first game at Langtree Park.

Instead, Saints will face champions South Sydney on February 22 to contest the World Club Championship - a fixture Wellens is relishing.

"South Sydney will be a huge challenge, even without Sam Burgess," he said.

"The way they go about their business is very impressive. We are going to have to front up to that aggressive, in-your-face style.

"But the Saints fans will pack Langtree Park and people will come from all over the country to see the game."

Meanwhile, Wellens admits the forthcoming season may well be his last for the club he has served with such distinction before he hangs up his boots.

Headed: "I have a job getting into the team now, but I'll turn up to pre-season and give my best. It's more likely to be my final season but I won't make any definite decision until June or July.

"I have been treating every season as though it would be my last for quite a few years but I haven't felt like retiring yet."

Magic weekend at Wolves

Saints will face neighbours Warrington Wolves in the next season's Magic Weekend which will be staged for the first time at St James' Park - the home of Barclays Premiership club, Newcastle United, during the weekend of Saturday and Sunday, May 30-31.

The action kicks off on the Saturday when Salford Red Devils take on Widnes Vikings (2.30pm) followed by the Hull derby (4.45pm) and then the clash between Grand Final runners-up Wigan Warriors and Challenge winners Leeds Rhinos (7pm).

Catalans Dragons and Huddersfield Giants get proceedings underway on the Sunday (1pm), while the fifth match will see defending champions Saints face Warrington (3.15pm).

The curtain will come down on the two-day spectacular when Castleford Tigers take on Wakefield Trinity Wildcats (5.30pm).

Super League general manager Blake Solly said: "Magic Weekend is long established as one of the sport's most popular events and from the positive feedback we have received since announcing that it was heading to St James' Park, it's clear it will be very special indeed.

"As a top destination city with fantastic travel links and a wide range of accommodation options, Newcastle is an ideal venue for this unique sporting occasion.

"We have worked closely with all the clubs and our broadcast partner Sky Sports to produce a fixture schedule that will ensure that every minute of every match at Magic Weekend matters.

Tickets for Magic Weekend 2015 went on sale from 9am on Monday from the 12 First Utility Super League clubs or can be purchased by calling the ticket hotline on 0844 856 113 or by visiting www.rugbyleaguetickets.co.uk

Super League season ticket holders should contact their club directly to claim the best deal. There is an early bird discount of £5 until Monday, December 8, on regular priced tickets which start at £40 for the weekend and £25 per day. All six matches will be broadcast live on Sky Sports.

Let's keep the champs on their perch

Better the devil you know, than the devil you don't know. This seems to be the philosophy of Saints' new head coach Keiron Cunningham as he builds a team around him ahead of the 2015 First Utility Super League season.

Only a week or so after he had brought Ade Gardner on board as an assistant strength and conditioning coach, he turned to another member of Saints all-conquering team of the early to mid years of the new Millennium to complement his backroom staff.

Like Gardner, the latest arrival (the legendary Sean Long) played along side Cunningham during one of St Helens most successful period and it is hoped their combined experience - and not to mention camaraderie - will rub off on the current crop of players around them.

It goes without saying that Longy has always had a Jack the Lad image, whether justified or not, and you only need to read his biography to draw your own conclusions.

But one thing you can't question is his immense talent as a player and no doubt Cunningham is confident he can play a crucial role in the club's bid to retain their title.

That in itself won't be easy as every other club will be hell-bent on knocking the champs off their perch.

Only time will tell...

So near yet so far ... that's my first reaction to Dave Chisnall's gallant failure to overturn Phil Taylor in the Champion of Champions darts final in Wolverhampton on Sunday night.

The St Helens-born player did his home town proud, despite a 16-13 defeat, and maybe he can go one better next month when competing in the world championship.

Remarkably, two other St Helens players, Michael Smith and Stephen Bunting, reached the latter stages of the competition and that in itself represents an amazing achievement for a far from large sports-loving town.

Bunting bowed out 16-9 to Mervyn King in the quarter finals, while Smith suffered a 16-3 mauling by Taylor in the semi-finals.

I don't know what was preying on Smith's mind but he was far from his best on the night and seemed to surrender far too meekly.

Congratulations to Rainford CC teenager Ellie Threlkeld who was named girls' player of the season at the Lancashire Cricket Board's Development and Excellence presentation night at Old Trafford.

Ellie, who keeps wicket and opens the batting for the county's U15 side as well as the Lancashire Women's team and has recently been selected for the England U19s Development Programme, received her award from England cricketer Kate Cross.

My long-time friend, John Williams, secretary of the Lancashire Schools' Cricket Association, opened proceedings and being chairman of Rainford CC he took extra delight in seeing Ellie's outstanding performances justly rewarded.

Gymnast crowned world champion

Rachael Letsche is all smiles after claiming a gymnastics medal

Rachael enjoys golden swansong

GYMNASTICS

By CHRIS AMERY
chris.amery@sjpress.co.uk
@ChrisAmery2

Not many sportspeople get to finish their careers on an almighty high.

But that's exactly what top gymnast Rachael Letsche did when she was crowned the women's world tumbling champion in Daytona Florida - in her last ever competition.

'It was just so satisfying to end my gymnastics career on a high'

The 23-year-old, from Sutton Leach, incredibly leapt from eighth in qualification to snatch the gold medal from China's Chen Lingxi.

She impressed the judges with scores of 33.800 and 33.700 in her final routines to finish 0.200 points ahead of her nearest rival.

She said: "My main aim had been to get to the final, so to win it was beyond my wildest dreams. After qualifying in eighth place I didn't think I'd even be able to get onto the podium.

"Things just clicked for me in the final and I managed to put together two clean passes. Luckily I came out with a strong first run and the second pass was quite simple.

"I was a bit emotional once I'd finished because I knew it was my last ever competition.

"But then, when I won, they turned into happy tears."

Rachael started out as a rhythmic gymnast when she was just five years old but then switched her attention to tumbling - a breathtaking form of gymnastics in which competitors must link together a string of somersaults, twists and flips - when she was 12.

The former Sutton High pupil, now a student at St Helens College, told how she would miss the camaraderie of being part of the British Gymnastics "family" and travelling all over the world to compete.

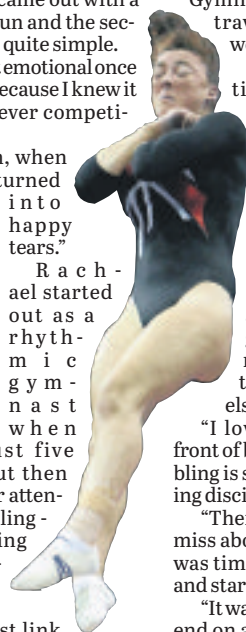

But she will continue to give back to gymnastics as a tumbling coach at Warrington Gymnastics Club and leaves the competitive side of the sport with many happy memories.

She added: "The adrenaline buzz you get at the start of a run in a big competition is like nothing else.

"I loved performing in front of big crowds too - tumbling is such a fast and exciting discipline to watch.

"There's lots of things I'll miss about competing but it was time for me to move on and start a career.

"It was just so satisfying to end on a high. That was all I wanted to do."

Chizzy power not enough to topple champion Taylor

DARTS

Defiant Dave Chisnall (pictured) failed to dethrone Phil Taylor in the final of the Grand Slam of Darts at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on Sunday night but took the 16-times world champion right down to the wire.

Trailing 5-0 and then 7-3 and 9-5, the son of St Helens battled back to level the scores at 10-10 going into a crucial break.

But Taylor, seeking his sixth title in the event, kept his nerve in a tension-charged finale to run out a 16-13 winner, picking up a first prize of £100,000 and leaving Chisnall a handsome consolation worth £50,000.

It was the biggest match of Chisnall's career to date and despite defeat his army of fans will be hoping he can build on his achievements when the world championships get under way next month.

Taylor is fully aware of the threat Chisnall poses to the rest of the darting world.

After his victory, the Potteries ace said: "Dave never gave up and is an incredible player. It was extremely tough for me out there".

Chisnall admitted a slow start had cost him the chance to win a first major title in the PDC.

"I'm happy with my performance over the last week but the final got away from me at the beginning," said the 34-year-old.

He added: "You can't give Phil Taylor a 5-0 lead, and even though I've been further behind this week, Phil was too good in the end."

In the semi-final, Taylor also had overcome Chisnall's fellow St Helens-born player Michael Smith, cruising to a 16-3 victory over an out-of-form opponent. A third St Helens player, Stephen Bunting, reached the quarter final stages where he lost to Mervyn King.

SAINTS LEGEND BACK AT 'SPIRITUAL HOME'

Long appointed Cunningham's assistant coach

RUGBY LEAGUE

By JOHN YATES
sthelens.reporter@jpress.co.uk
@StHelensReport

Saints legend Sean Long has been appointed as Keiron Cunningham's assistant coach.

The 38-year-old has agreed a two-year deal to return to his spiritual home.

He will take on assistant coaching duties alongside Jamahl Lolesi.

Named in Saints' Greatest Ever 17, Long enjoyed a glittering 13-season career in the red vee.

He won two World Club Challenges, four Grand Finals and five Challenge

Cups as well as being named Lance Todd winner three times.

He left in 2009 to join Hull FC and then coached at Wigan before assisting at Salford and Samoa.

Cunningham said: "I am really happy that Sean has agreed to join my team.

"He is a legend at this club and will bring years of experience not only as a world class player but also as a first rate coach.

"He commands respect amongst the playing group and will complement our backroom team perfectly."

Long scored 2,625 points for Saints in a career that spanned more than 330 games.

"I am delighted to be back at a club I love so much," he said.

'He commands respect amongst the playing group and will complement our backroom team perfectly'

"Saints are one of the greatest rugby league clubs in the world and to be part of the backroom team here was too good an opportunity to turn down.

"It was my chance to come home.

"The opportunity to work with Keiron Cunningham - a teammate and friend who was and still is a legend at Saints - and the great squad the club has is very exciting.

"I am keen to develop my coaching career and working alongside Keiron, Jamahl Lolesi and Paul Wellens, as well as the rest of the squad, will enable me to do that.

"I'd like to thank Salford Red Devils for their support and the opportunity to continue my coaching career there.

"I wish all the staff and the players the best for the future.

"I'd also like to thank Eamonn and the board for the opportunity to come back to the club I played the majority of my career for."

'It was my chance to come home' says Sean Long

I'm ready for the 'Ryder Cup of Rugby League'

Keiron Cunningham knows what it's like to be part and parcel of a World Club Challenge winning side.

The newly-appointed Saints' coach was twice a winner of the competition as a player with his home-town club - against the Brisbane Broncos in 2001 and 2007 - and had also to swallow the bitter pill of defeat at the hands of Melbourne Storm in 2000 and Sydney Roosters three years later.

And even though the Super League champions date against the NRL kings South Sydney Rabbitohs at Langtree Park is still a few months down the line, Cunningham is already relishing the task of pitting his wits against the Australians in a competition which has been extended to six clubs and being billed as the 'Ryder Cup of Rugby League'.

He said: "We are very much looking forward to what will be a great contest.

"To win the World Club Challenge would be a massive boost for the club and having been part of two wins as a player, I know how special it is to the town and the fans.

"I'm sure Langtree Park will be packed to the rafters as two of the best club sides in the world lock horns."

Rabbitohs' boss Michael

Maguire, who knows all about Saints from his time as head coach at Wigan Warriors, is also relishing the clash.

He said: "We're really looking forward to the World Club Challenge as a group and it will be a fantastic way to start our 2015 season with the World Club title on the line.

"We have a few new players in our squad this year and a tough hit out such as the one we expect against St Helens will set us up well for our Premiership defence.

"Despite St Helens being the local side, I'm sure many English-based Rabbitohs members and supporters and ex-pat Aussies will get behind us, and I'm also sure the English crowd will look forward seeing some of our English Rabbitohs in the Burgess brothers in action on home soil.

"I understand the importance of the World Club Challenge from my time at Wigan and our team can't wait to play for another big title in February."

The Saints-Rabbitohs encounter, which will be played on Sunday, February 22 (7pm), will be the centre piece of a three-match World Series that weekend.

The action kicks off on Friday, February 20, with Warrington Wolves v St George-Ilwarrarra Dragons (8pm), continues on Saturday with Wigan Warriors v Brisbane Broncos (7.45pm) and reaches an exciting climax with the Saints/Rabbitohs clash.

Tickets for the Saints/Rabbitohs clash cost from £22 for adults, £15 for concessions and £10 for children. Tickets can be purchased from the Langtree Park ticket office, or by calling 01744 455 052.

Saints' fixture at Widnes Vikings has been brought forward two days to Friday, March 13, 2015.
